A mountain oasis for goats and visitors!

The innovative Blüemlisberg goat farm in the heart of Switzerland with its unique goat's milk products is a veritable experience. Flowers adorn the traditional farmhouse; lovingly laid tables invite you to linger awhile. Over 70 goats graze on the surrounding land. The Blüemlisberg, with its views over Lake Lucerne and the striking Mythen and Rigi mountains, is a paradise for gourmets and nature lovers. This place has unparalleled charisma and it isn't only an oasis for Heidi and her goatherd Peter. The welfare of the animals is paramount, but sustainability in terms of production and processing is also a matter close to our hearts. The Blüemlisberg is located in the Sattel-Hochstuckli hiking-region and can be reached via an easy stroll.

In the farm shop as well as the online shop, you can buy Switzerland's first goat's milk chocolate and the traditionally-made goat's milk ice cream produced on site at the farm, which you can also enjoy in hotels including the Vitznauerhof at Vitznau, the Victoria-Jungfrau at Interlaken and the Ecco restaurant at Ascona. Indulge in unique delicacies from our world of goats and visit us on the Blüemlisberg – in the heart of Switzerland.
